

The center of it all... Central Louisiana!

- Top Ten Wilderness community
- Strategic transportation assets
- Hardworking, trained workforce

Central Louisiana is the Center of Opportunity for savvy companies.

Manufacturing Center

Procter & Gamble, Berkshire Hathaway, Crest Industries, RoyOMartin, GE Energy, Weyerhaeuser, Afco Industries, Willamette Valley Company, and many others prosper with Central Louisiana's business-friendly environment; committed, trained workforce; and nationally recognized quality of life.

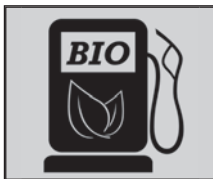

Knowledge Center

Central Louisiana is home to two public universities, a five-campus community college, a private college, a multi-institution learning center, and an important Louisiana State University research campus. The region hosts fourteen higher education campuses, with a new Center of Excellence for Manufacturing in development.

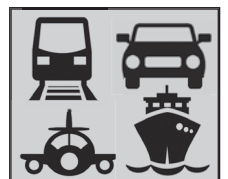

Biofuels Center

Central Louisiana's abundant forests are driving its emergence as a national leader for the commercialization of biofuels. Strategic location and accessible bio-assets have sparked the decisions by Sundrop Fuels, Cool Planet, German Pellets and others to place manufacturing investments in Central Louisiana.

Transportation Center

England Airpark, an award winning military base reuse, hosts one the nation's best regional air-ports with international capable air infrastructure. The Airpark anchors a sophisticated regional transportation system that includes four lane interstate and state highways; two class-one railroads, and Red River Waterway ports.
